

Savannah Southern Charm Tour

Hidden gardens with southern floral beauty, Spanish moss, magnolias, restored cotton warehouses, unique architectural details, and fountains only begin to describe the beauty of Savannah, Georgia. Possessing the country's largest National Historic Landmark District in a 2.5 square mile area, there is an astonishingly preserved genteel city encompassing the beauty, architecture and history of the old South. Savannah was founded in 1733 by General James Edward Oglethorpe. His colonial plan was based on a grid of residences and broad thoroughfares with spacious public squares at regular intervals. This design has blossomed into a gracious city whose downtown has been enhanced by more than fifty years of preservation activity. Twenty-one oak-canopied squares surrounded by lovely homes and churches give Savannah a character of its own. Join us on our visit to this lovely southern city.
