

Dr. Marcie Robinson

WSSC Child Development Program Director and Instructor

Thank for your interest in Child Development. For more than 25 years, I have taught a variety of ages from birth to adults in different settings. I have been a classroom teacher, reading coach in an elementary school and an adjunct professor before coming to Wallace State Community College to serve in my current role. I earned my Ph.D. in Early Childhood Education from the University of Alabama at Birmingham.

I, too, began my education in a community college setting and have diligently worked through school over the years while being a mother, daughter, sister, wife, and teacher. I would love to help you become successful in your education and can provide you with information about our Child Development Program.

Please call me or email me for more information. I would love to speak with you.

Dr. Marcie Robinson

Office: Tom Bevill Health Education Building, Room 401

Classroom: Tom Bevill Health Education Building, Room 409

Phone: (256) 352-8383

Email: marcie.robinson@wallacestate.edu